Prove your right to work

Your right to work

BOLUWATIFE DAVID AKINTOLA

You have the right to work in the UK from 26 August 2026. You have the right to work in the UK until 30 January 2028, subject to the conditions and restrictions below.

Conditions

While your visa is valid

You can work:

- up to 20 hours a week during term time
- full-time during periods outside of term time

> You must share proof of your term dates with your employer.

Work placement

You can also work on a placement which is part of the course your student visa is based on. The work placement must be:

- a compulsory part of your course
- assessed as part of your course

When you can start a permanent full-time job

If you apply for a Skilled Worker visa, you can start work in a permanent full-time job up to 3 months before your course completion date.

If you apply for a Graduate visa, you can start work in a permanent full-time job once you have successfully completed your course of study.

All of the following must also apply:

- you are studying full-time at degree level or above with a higher education provider that has a track record of compliance as a student sponsor
- you made a valid Skilled Worker or Graduate visa application when you had permission as a student
- you are waiting for a decision on your Skilled Worker or Graduate visa application, or the outcome of any administrative review against a refusal

Restrictions

You cannot:

- work as a professional sportsperson or sports coach
- work as an entertainer
- work in a position which would fill a permanent full-time vacancy unless you apply for a Skilled Worker or Graduate visa
- run a business or be self-employed - unless you have applied for a Start-up visa

Prove your right to work

To share your details with an employer, you need to create a right to work share code.

Get a share code

> If you have a biometric residence card, biometric residence permit, or Frontier Worker permit, you must get a share code to prove your right to work. You cannot use your card or permit as proof.
